That's fine Krissy - still

Thursday might be a bit different though

No one claim tomorrow from anyone but CB 🤔

Hello. Just confirming you're planning to do bargaining from Brisbane Office on Tuesday?

Afternoon...no bargaining in Sydney on Tuesday - do a muster after that and then do a muster in Brisbane on Thursday 😭

Earning your dollars! I'll work my flights around that. What time are you planning the Brisbane muster?

Factor

Still working that through but probably 11ish

Ok thanks I'll fly back

Hello...you free for a chat sometime today re bargaining - particularly use of force allowance

I'll line something up - team too?

Sorry legal also?

Anytime after 2 works for me / probably not the team at this stage...if Kath is available that would be good

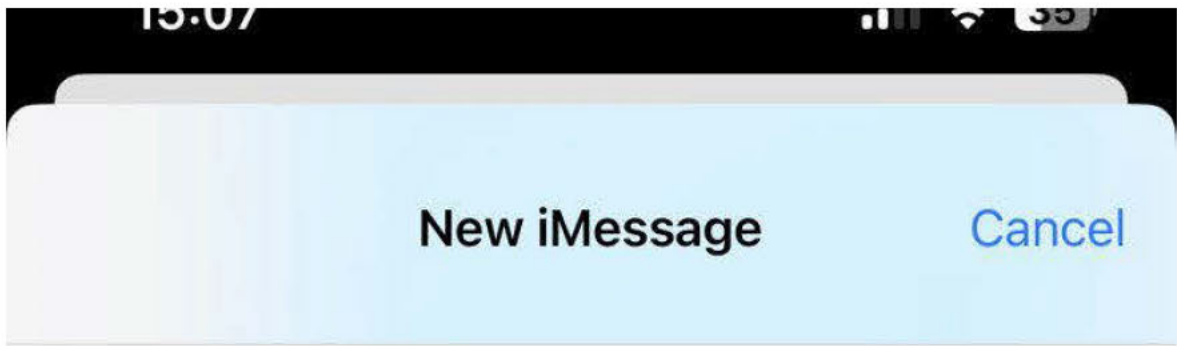

It's more on the affordability issue and What about throwing out - to see if palatable - reducing the 11.2% to say 9% and increasing allowances?

But what about unsworn which significant portion of workforce.

It's not going to keep us competitive for sworn though

Hi boss. Hope you have a great break this week. Just as an assurance piece everything will be in place today well ahead of any industrial action commencing. We've appointed a national lead for each of the 6 actions to ensure consistent approach. Comms will be going out today including TPs for supervisors to manage. We will also have an update out to S&T partners today. It is likely we will receive an additional notice later this week with some further actions for next week, but plans are in place.

If ok I will just send updates occasionally to keep u across (I know the team have been filtering but I think direct from me is clearer for you). K

9:39 AM

Thanks Kath , I appreciate the update
